Allies Are Hit By 4,000 Chinese And North Koreans On East Central Line

SEOUL (AP)—More than 4,000 North Korean and Chinese Reds slammed against 11 Allied main-line positions and a handful of outposts today as big-scale Communist attacks exploded in Eastern and Central Korea.

American and South Korean infantrymen smashed 10 of the main line attacks nine on the bloody Eastern Front and one on the Central Front.

Fighting for trench-line positions just in front of the Cook's Castle on the Eastern Front still raged.

There South Korean troops of the 12th Division were counter-attacking for a second time against Reds who hammered their way to Allied lines.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said the bitter fighting on the Eastern Front was the heaviest in that section in more than a year.

Some 2,500 North Korean Communist overran two small outposts and stormed four main-line positions on or near Anchor Hill. All four attacks were beaten back by troops of the 15th ROK Division, the Army said.

Another 750 Reds—a full battalion—hit Americans of the U. S. 45th Division in three attacks against Sand Bag Castle. Each time the attackers were stopped at the barbed wire by rifle and machine-gun fire.

The Reds' Castle fight 500 to 750 Reds threw a three-pronged attack against the Castle defense lines and against two main-line positions east of the Castle. The two eastern prongs were smashed.

North of the Punchedown American soldiers battled hand to hand for 20 minutes in their own trenches and hurled back 175 Reds who overran a listening post and clawed their way into Allied lines.

Another 175 North Koreans were beaten off in a three-pronged push against two ROK outposts at a main-line position between the Punchedown and Anchor Hill.

ROK defenders broke up a 150- to 200-man Chinese attack against Capitol Hill positions on the East-Central Front.

On the Western Front, seven small Chinese jabs were tossed back.

American Thunderjets and ROK Mustangs bombed and strafed Red fortifications and troops in the Anchor Hill sector.

Pantherjets, Thunderjets and Sabre jets, modified for fighter-bomber duty, hit the Reds in the western and central positions.

Night-flying B26 bombers reported destruction of 117 Red supply trucks, 2 locomotives and 5 box-cars Fifth Air Force reported.

Doubt Argument Humphrey Made For Tax Upkeep

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several veterans on the House Ways and Means Committee said today they were not convinced by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's argument for an extension of the excess profits tax on business.

They commented as the committee prepared to hear today from businessmen expected to contend the tax is stifling private enterprise.

Humphrey pleaded yesterday for a six-month extension of the tax, now due to die June 30, to bring it up to a billion dollars in additional revenue. He said this would reduce the federal deficit next year, fight inflation and help arm the nation in an era of what he called unprecedented peril.

Despite adverse comments by some members, House GOP leaders still hoped to push some sort of extension bill out of the committee, the starting point for all tax bills in Congress. But prospects seemed strong that any extension would be modified by amendments providing relief from the tax in certain cases, or other compromise proposals.

City Council Votes Donation Of $500 to Little League

It Turns Down Request to Invest $7,000 In Industrial Fund Under Opinion Given For Council by City Counselor Chester Wolfe

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council, Monday night, voted the Sedalia Little League $500 to help in its drive for funds to complete the construction of the new stadium and other necessities. The Council denied a request to invest $7,000 in the Chamber of Commerce industrial fund, in accordance with an opinion of City Counselor Chester Wolfe. Routine business rounded out the remainder of the meeting.

Councilman Elmer Summers, second ward, on reporting on the finance committee, brought out the need for funds by the Little League. "A couple of fellows approached me the past week and explained the need for additional money for the Little League," he said, "so I went out to the park and looked over the situation."

"They have a wonderful little park, the men are showing much cooperation in building it, without being paid, and it will be a permanent grandstand. It will be an improvement to our city and part of us," he said. Continuing, Councilman Summers praised the work and the program and said, "Although the City is not making donations, I shall say it is an investment in our properties and especially our children. There is a man here who will tell us all about it."

Sklar Describes Growth
Mayor Herb Studer called upon Richard R. Sklar, who has been interested in the program. Sklar told the group how the Little League started in Sedalia, of its beginning in 1952 with 250 boys and ending the season with 300.

In the program, he also said this year registration was approximately 550, of which some were eliminated because of physical handicaps, but between 350 and 450 boys will be in this summer program, actively.

Sklar also told the group the plan is far reaching and the men hope to have a program by next year which will take in boys from eight to 18, while this year it is strictly for boys eight to 12 inclusive. He also told of the many men who have been working on the project. He specifically pointed out the efforts of George Ray, who has had charge of directing the construction of the park and who has done a great part of the work himself, with the aid of many interested men, some who do not even have children.

Sklar explained the start of the program at House Park, referring to Councilman Summers as the "father of House Park," and why it was moved from there to the site west of Liberty Park on the Jenny Jaynes Lewis Memorial site. The children in that part of the city were deprived of the use of House Park, which was not fair, and the facilities grew so it was necessary to move to a larger area," he said. He also pointed out the Little League program does not discriminate among the children whether they live on the west, south or the north side of town. "It is for all these youngsters," Sklar pointed out.

Lists Stadium Features
He also explained the new stadium would seat approximately 1,000 persons, will have a cyclone fence around the outfield, protective front on the stadium, lights, and other items all of which are being placed as fast as money can buy materials necessary and which have not been donated.

Mayor Studer, at the conclusion of Sklar's talk, said the Council should participate in the program and recommended a $500 investment. Summers made the motion, Councilman Arthur Schwarz seconded it and it was unanimously passed.

Dr. Ira White called attention to a matter of the Chamber of Commerce industry project, and Councilor Wolfe's opinion, and said "I don't see how we can go along on the program as far as the Council is concerned, but those of you who can afford it might help as individuals."

Councilman Summers then asked the opinion be read and inserted in the minutes of the meeting. "This Council appreciates our parks and they are doing a fine job and we must help them on their projects, help the Little League. We would also like to help out this industrial program, but we can't in accordance with the law. I'll help out of my pocket the best I can," he concluded.

Councilman Woodrow Garrison called attention to the dedication of the lights at Liberty Park, Saturday night. Garrison moved a letter be written by Mayor Studer to Harry W. Walsh and its members expressing appreciation to the Council for their endeavors and a letter to the Missouri Public Service Co., for the entertainment furnished which helped to make the evening and dedication complete. It was seconded by Councilman Aubrey Case, and unanimously passed.

Mayor Studer also called attention to this program and told briefly of the program held which several hundred persons attended.

Settle Bus Problem
Councilman Summers during the meeting took the floor and said "Let's settle this bus problem. This man Watson wants to work with the Council. He gave the people all the opportunities to ride the buses, on the schedule which they protested being cut off. I move, Mr. Mayor, that the Mayor notify him the Council accepts his proposals he made to the Council."

It was pointed out by Councilman Carlton Kelley that a change had been made whereby Mr. Watson son was now operating the buses on a hourly schedule at night, instead of taking them completely off.

On a motion by Summers, seconded by Councilman John Carroll, it was suggested Mr. Watson meet with Councilor Wolfe and discuss the proposals and that a new franchise ordinance be drafted. (Please turn to page 10, col. 3)

Woman Is Kidnaped, Robbed at Point Of Hypodermic Needle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman told police today she was kidnaped and robbed at the point of a hypodermic needle.

Mrs. Alvina Allen, 52, said that as she got into her car in front of a bank yesterday, a man demanded she give him a ride. He produced a hypodermic needle filled with yellow fluid and said:

"You're going where I want you to go or I'll give you the needle."

After she drove to the Santa Monica mountains, the man ordered her to stop and took her watch, a $400 diamond solitaire and $600 cash.

He left in a car which had stopped nearby.

A large delegation from Marshall and representatives of other towns attended the meeting.

"When people learn that it is not a disease, but a condition, then those with this condition will be accepted and given jobs in trades and work in which they have been trained," Mrs. Bruner said.

Ike Says Keep Out Chinese

GOP Leaders Agree To Scrap Proposed Ban On UN Funds If Reds Are Let In WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders agreed today to scrap a proposed ban against further U. S. funds for the United Nations if Red China should be admitted to the U. N.

The decision was announced by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) after a White House meeting of GOP Senate and House leaders. Eisenhower had suddenly called the special meeting.

Bridges said the President endorsed a substitute proposal that both houses go on record as opposing the admission of the Chinese Communists to the U. N. under any circumstances at this time.

Bridges added that it was the sense of the meeting, with the President concurring, that this country not only would oppose Red China's admission but would take active leadership in keeping the Chinese Communists out of the world organization.

Bridges and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today's special meeting was called because of indications that the British, among others, may press for the admission of Red China in connection with a Korean armistice.

Duke Takes Vow To Serve Queen In Faith, Truth

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, London (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh averted his eyes today and walked slowly to the throne of his radiant and crowned young wife, Queen Elizabeth II.

Kneeling humbly before her he promised to serve her in "faith and truth." This was his moment of homage.

Lights beating down on the throne glinted on the elegant head of the duke. As his wife had dedicated herself to her realm, so the duke promised before God to serve her always.

The queen, leaning forward slightly and clasped his hands between hers. Then the duke said:

"I, Philip, duke of Edinburgh, do become your liege man of life and limb, and of early worship, and faith and truth I will bear unto you, to live and die, against all manner of folks. So help me God."

This was his knightly vow, similar in form to the oaths taken by the nobles of this realm for the last 800 years.

Arising, the duke touched the crown upon the queen's head and kissed her left cheek.

The duke's homage symbolized for all the world the secondary role he must play throughout his life.

Even his son, Prince Charles, the 4½-year-old heir apparent, may one day take precedence ahead of him, as does the queen's other son, Prince Andrew.

And Charles definitely will outrank his father if the duke lives to see his son succeed to the throne.

No Passengers Killed In Train Wrecks Last Year

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Not a passenger lost his life in a train accident in the nation last year, the safety section of the Association of American Railroads was told today.

Clark Hungerford, president of the Frisco Railway, cited this record making 1952 the safest year in railroad history.

"Over the years, no other form of transportation has compiled so outstanding a record in handling passengers," Hungerford said, in reporting, fatalities to passengers were reduced 85 per cent and to employees 80 per cent in the 30-year period ending in 1952.

James H. Aydelott of Washington, vice president of the association, reported the nation's railroads have spent eight billion dollars since the end of World War II for improvements. The improvements have contributed to safety in a number of ways, he said.

About 300 railroad safety experts from throughout the nation are attending the meeting.

Miss Smith Receives Award for Missionary Work Done In Korea

Miss Bertha Smith was awarded a certificate of merit for her missionary work in Korea at the Missouri Valley College commencement exercises Sunday afternoon at Marshall. Miss Smith returned recently after spending almost three years of internment by the Communists. She is the sister of Miss Annie Smith, near Marshall, and of Miss Virginia Smith, a school teacher at Houstonia.

Also attending the exercises were her brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Smith, Seneca, Mo.

Miss Smith went to Korea in 1947. Her freedom from Communist internment was arranged by the State Department, which obtained Russian intervention. Six other internees were released with her, four of them Methodist missionaries like herself.

Miss Smith accepted the award personally and then returned to her sister's farm home just outside Marshall.

Worms Wreak Much Damage In Pettis Co.

Worms are worming their way into the news these days by causing heavy damage to the corn and other crops of Pettis County. Several farmers have reported large fields completely ruined by the worms and the county extension office is being deluged with questions.

County Agent Merle Vaughan says there are three kinds of worms doing the most damage and he gives recommendations of what to do about each type.

Replant Between Rows
Where Sod Web Worms Work

The sod web worm is most prevalent in sod ground, but is being reported elsewhere. He is small, about 1/4 to 1/2 inches in length, and has a web. The web is usually attached to the stalk below the ground and has bits of earth mixed in it.

The only known control is early fall plowing or later fall plowing followed by harrowing to turn the hibernating worms up to the weather.

When the stand is sufficiently damaged to require replanting, it should be done between the rows. That way the worms may stay on the damaged corn until the other is too big to cut off.

A new material, aldrin, is being used experimentally in the county this year and while rather expensive, is supposed to kill all insects in the soil. One of the users has reported a good stand where the material was used and a poor stand elsewhere.

Army Worm
The Army worm is green with white stripes and when small moves like a meandering worm. They work more at night and hide under clods and in the center of the cornstalks during the day. They are also very damaging to barley and other grain crops.

Two materials, toxaphene and DDT, are recommended. The emulsifiable concentrate should be used as it does not clog the sprayer as does the wettable powder.

The dosage is 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pounds of actual Toxaphene or 1 to 2 pounds of actual DDT per acre. One of these materials has six pounds of material to the gallon and the other two pounds, so the price per gallon is not the true measure of which material is most economical to use.

The heavier use of either should be used when foliage is heavy as on small grain crops. Here the worms usually cut off the heads.

Cut Worms
The same material as for Army worms is recommended for cut worms. However, as long as the ground is dry the worms will be working more or less underground and may not be where they will come in contact with the spray.

British Liner Gets Whistle Salutes

NEW YORK (AP)—The liner Queen Elizabeth, flying bright signal flags from stem to stern in honor of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, received whistled salutes from harbor craft as she docked today.

The vessel, named for Queen Mother Elizabeth, held a coronation dinner dance last night, and there were coronation cakes at all the tables.

Elizabeth gave her peoples Britain's high creed. She said: "Parliamentary institutions with their free speech and the respect for the rights of minorities and the inspiration of a broad tolerance in thought and its expression—all this we owe to a precious part of our way of life and outlook."

Elizabeth said this message has been sustained and invigorated over centuries by the British family of nations. She said these principles were "as sacred to the crown and monarchy as to its many Parliaments and peoples."

"I ask you now to cherish them—and practice them, too," she said. "Then we can go forward together in peace, seeking justice and freedom for all men."

She spoke of the unity in spirit and aim of Britain's many lands and races. She said "therefore, I am sure that this, my coronation, is not the symbol of a power and a splendor that are gone but a declaration of our hopes for the future and for the years that I may, by God's grace, be given to reign and serve you as Queen."

She bade farewell with these words: "I thank you from a full heart. God bless you all."

New Queen Calls On Subjects To Guard Freedom, Tolerance

K. of C. Will Store Vatican Microfilms In A-Bomb Safety

NEW YORK (AP)—A microfilm copy of the 10 million items in the Vatican library will be stored in an atom bomb proof vault in the United States, James W. McCormick, of Westbury, N. O., supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, said today.

Another microfilm copy will be made available in this country to scholars and researchers. Both copies will be under custody of St. Louis University in Missouri.

McCormick returned on the liner United States after visiting Vatican city to inspect the microfilming work, which is being financed by the K. of C.

The microfilming, expected to cost about $200,000, began early this year and is expected to be completed in another three and a half years, McCormick said.

Thousands See Elizabeth II Along Route

Only 7,500, Including Heir, Prince Charles, In Westminster Abbey

LONDON (AP)—Britain crowned Elizabeth II today in a magnificent spectacle of ancient pomp and pageantry, before the wondering eyes of her little son Charles, heir to the throne.

The thunder of guns and the pealing of bells proclaimed to millions massed in London's streets the formal accession of Elizabeth the Queen, the first coronation of a woman since Victoria, 116 years ago.

Crowds massed 25 to 35 deep acclaimed the Queen going from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey, and coming home again. Only 7,500 persons were in the abbey, but millions more could see the 2½ hour ceremony by television for the first time.

Cries of "God Save the Queen" blended into a mighty roar from thousands of throats as the Queen's purple and golden coach left the abbey for the main coronation procession, five miles and more through the center of the old capital.

The 27-year-old Queen, who had looked drawn near the close of the long abbey ritual—and once near tears—flashed her smile. The Duke of Edinburgh was beside her.

There was a deluge of rain as the main procession got underway. The inside of the Queen mother's coach was lit by newly installed fluorescent lighting which glinted on her coronet and jewels.

Wind-blown rain and brilliant sunshine competed with each other for control of the day. But the millions who had gathered to cheer the Queen stood firm in sites some had staked out 48 hours ahead of time.

The sun burst through lowering skies when Elizabeth was presented to the congregation inside the abbey as "your undoubted Queen." A cloudburst drenched the jam-packed capital at the moment of crowning. It rained steadily for 90 minutes, stopping only a few minutes before the consecration service ended. More than 1,300 persons were counted casualties in the crash of crowds, with 25 hurt seriously enough to go to hospitals.

Prince Charles, who is four, was brought to the abbey just before the ceremony. The Archbishop of Canterbury placed the jewel-encrusted crown of St. Edward upon the head of Britain's seventh Queen, symbolically consecrating her to God and to the service of more than a half billion people in a quarter of the earth.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
From "Gleanings of Her Majesty"

FROM her earliest moments Queen Elizabeth has always had that interest in soldiers, uniforms, and military customs which so animated her father.

I remember on one of the earliest of the Monday afternoon excursions on which Queen Mary used to take us, watching the little Princess as we walked slowly round an exhibition of tapestries.

"Now take this one," she would say, and then tell us something fascinating about the way in which it had been made and where it had hung in the past.

Queen Mary had much knowledge about such matters which was almost awe-inspiring.

But though usually Princess Elizabeth used to hang on to every word her grandmother uttered, on this occasion I noticed her attention straying.

I followed her eyes and saw, across the room, three tall Guardsmen in their khaki uniforms.

Princess Elizabeth was watching them intently, with that fascinated concentration a more modern child might bestow on a visiting film star.

She never took her eyes off them during the whole tour we made of the exhibition.

I was amused when we got her home to 145 Piccadilly to notice that her first thought was to tell Mummy of this wonderful experience.

Her mother was always very gentle with the children. She would take a great interest in their day's doings, and greet them with a "Well, darlings, and what have you seen today?"

This time Princess Elizabeth wasted no time on repeating the lore about the tapestry which Queen Mary had passed on to us.

Instead, she ran to her mother and hugged her, saying, "Oh, Mummy, Mummy. There were three soldiers there!"

That interest in things military has remained with her. She would always stand fascinated at the window of 145 while the Guard marched across Hyde Park Corner in the mornings, splendid in their scarlet uniforms.

"Oh, look, Crawfie," she would say excitedly. "Aren't they pretty?"

I used sometimes to see the same expression of interest across her face while she watched a parade of soldiers at a much later date.

How much the routine of her life may weigh on her, I am sure the military side of it will never bore her.

ONE of Queen Elizabeth's most charming traits was exhibited in her insistence that her sister, Princess Margaret, should be given all the attention due her. This has persisted from childhood.

When Princess Elizabeth, even as a very small girl, felt that visitors or friends were making so much fuss of her that Princess Margaret was in danger of being neglected, Princess Elizabeth would seize the first opportunity to say, "And now you must come and see my little sister."

The first time I saw that thoughtful gesture was when Princess Margaret was so young that she was still using her perambulator, but old enough to enjoy having people round her and to resent finding herself alone when she awoke from the afternoon nap.

Princess Elizabeth made it her business to see that her sister was soon a center of admiration.

This trait is still with her. Since her marriage it has had less opportunity for expression; and besides, Princess Margaret, with a personality that draws interesting people to her, never has a chance to get neglected.

QUEEN ELIZABETH has passed on this to her own children. An old ghillie who had spent years in the Royal Service at Balmoral and had just retired, was full of praise for Queen Elizabeth, whose charm and thoughtfulness had caused her to be revered by servants not only in her own home but wherever she went.

"And doesn't little Prince Charles take after his mother?" said the ghillie in broad Scots which had to be translated to be readable.

"Everybody loves him here in Scotland; the servants and tenants look to see him. After a few moments of being the center of admiration the little boy always takes the hand of the nearest person to him—usually a woman—and leads her to where Princess Anne is sitting up perkily in her pram. 'And now,' he says, 'you must all come and see my little sister.'"

Drew Pearson's Washington Merry-go-round

New Voice Chief Is Expert On Exasperation

WASHINGTON—Bob Johnson, former head of Temple University, now head of the Voice of America, last week told President Eisenhower the following story about the difference between irritation, aggravation and frustration.

"Two marines were celebrating rather late at night," Johnson told Ike. "When one of them asked if the other knew the difference between irritation, aggravation and frustration."

"No," replied the second marine. "Well, I'll show you the difference," said the other, and it being 2 a. m., he picked up the telephone and dialed Oliver 2-2525.

A sleepy voice answered the telephone and the marine said, 'Is Mr. Goldberg there?'

"You've got the wrong number," said the voice and hung up. "That," explained the marine, 'is irritation.'

"Fifteen minutes later he dialed the same number and the same sleepy re-awakened voice answered. 'Again the marine asked: 'Is Mr. Goldberg there?'

"I told you Mr. Goldberg did not live here. Now don't bother me anymore, I want to sleep."

"That," explained the marine, 'is aggravation.'

"Fifteen minutes later, the marine dialed the same number. This time he asked, 'Are there any messages there for Mr. Goldberg?'

"Go to hell!" replied the voice. "And that," explained the marine, 'is frustration.'

"And that," continued Voice of America Director Johnson to Eisenhower, "is exactly the way I feel."

Hustle vs. Frustration
Reporting to Eisenhower after weeks of trying to see him, Johnson told him how he was now stymied by red tape wanted to take the state department's propaganda and information services out of the state department, set them up as an independent agency.

What Johnson didn't tell the President was that six times he threatened to resign as a result of frustration, but whether he would remain under the state department or become his own boss.

Here is the complicated story of what Johnson has been up against: Congressman Taber of New York, the renowned GOP economist, and his GOP colleague, dour Cliff Cleveland of Ohio, have decided that the Voice of America and the state department's propaganda activities should remain in the state department. They think Johnson is doing a poor job, argue that setting up a separate agency would create duplication, overlapping, cost more money. And since these two congressmen dominate the House appropriations committee they have a lot to say about reorganization.

But Johnson has been coddling up to Senator McCarthy, has McCarthy's okay to transfer most of his propaganda activities to an independent agency by presidential decree. This would need no act of congress, would go to McCarthy's committee for emphatic approval.

But, though McCarthy encourages the transfer, some of Johnson's advisers point out that he has to get along with the Senate foreign relations committee which passes on all foreign policy matters and which has already recommended that The Voice remain in the state department. Johnson, therefore, is being urged not to bypass and offend the foreign relations committee.

These are some of the problems he threshed out with the President. Eisenhower gave an immediate okay, authorized an executive decree taking all propaganda activities out of the state department.

What Johnson may not realize, however, is that, whether he works through McCarthy or through the Senate Foreign Relations, whether he is under the State Department or independent, in any case he will need appropriations. And when his budget comes before the House appropriations committee, penny-pinching Chairman Taber indicates privately that he will assign the matter to a subcommittee.

That subcommittee will consist of the same unending congressmen—Taber and Cleveland.

Meanwhile, with only 29 days left before the fiscal year expires, not one cent has been appropriated.

ated by Congress for the Voice of America, for student exchange, for the information services or any other propaganda activity.

No wonder Dr. Johnson is irritated, aggravated and frustrated.

The Senate appropriations committee preaches economy better than it practices it. Under the Democrats, the committee employed only 18 professional staff members at the ceiling salary of $10,000.

Under Republicans, the committee is striving so hard for economy that it has hired 32 professional staffers at $10,000 each.

New Jersey's tax-probing congressman Bob Keane has been sounded out by GOP leaders to run against Senator Bob Hendrickson in next year's Republican primaries. . . . Most revealing insight into the man who rules Nevada, Senator Pat McCarran, is in the current Reporter magazine. It gives the inside story of Hank Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, whom McCarran tried to put out of business because he dared criticize. . . . Harry Truman liked Ed Pauley's Hawaiian island but got a little bored without anything to read. He's glad to get back to the USA. In the old days Hawaiian children used to swim to school from the little islands to the bigger island. The island was once owned by Max C. Fleischmann of yeast fame who, when called upon to testify in a lawsuit, was asked where he lived. Max replied: "Moku O Loe, Kaneohe, Oahu, Hawaii." It almost stumped court reporter Leslie G. Finley. . . . Kentucky's Senator Clements voted for Tidelands Oil despite the fact that Kentucky has no coastal oil, and despite the fact that the three top leaders in his state—Alben Barkley, Governor Wetherby, and Senator John Cooper—were all opposed. Cooper even opposed Eisenhower on Tidelands Oil. . . . (Colleagues say the reason for Clements' vote was a touch of Lyndon Johnsonitis. The Senator from Texas has taken Clements up on the mountain.)

The World Today—Dilemma In Excess Profits Tax

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—The excess profits tax poses one of the strangest dilemmas in American tax history. No solution—keeping it, softening it, or dropping it—will please everyone.

It's heartily disliked in Congress probably by most members. Government tax experts frankly point out unfairness in it. And businessmen despise it.

The best argument in its favor is that it does bring the government revenue: about 2½ billion a year. There are two main arguments against it, and they go like this: It is unfair; it discourages business by draining profits.

Not because he liked it but because he said the revenue is needed, President Eisenhower asked Congress to extend the excess profits tax (EPT) until Dec. 31. Otherwise, it will end automatically June 30.

Congress, now considering his request, after the start of the Korean War raised individuals' income taxes and slapped EPT on corporations. Both kinds of taxes were meant to be anti-inflationary and to get money.

(There is a good, but rarely mentioned, political reason for keeping EPT until Dec. 31. On that date the income tax on individuals automatically drops about 10 per cent. Voters might resent it if corporations got a tax cut in June, six months ahead of them.)

Sore point from the beginning: Jaycees Invite Young Leaders To World Meet

Three Junior Chamber of Commerce officials today tendered to young business leaders in some 60 countries their personal and official invitations to attend the eighth world-wide congress of Junior Chamber International in San Francisco June 20-27.

Offering delegates throughout the free world "a singular opportunity to advance their mutual objectives," U. S. Junior Chamber President Horace E. Henderson joined with JCI vice-president for North America Douglas L. Hoge and California Jaycee President Dr. Charles H. Johnson in urging that every interested nation send delegates to the international Congress.

Already expected in San Francisco are 800 to 1,000 representatives of Junior Chamber International from Tokyo to Rome, and from Edinburgh to Hong Kong.

President Henderson of the U. S. Junior Chamber pointed out that "a major topic of discussion at the VIII Congress of Junior Chamber International will be our plan to consolidate further world Jaycee movement. Junior Chamber members throughout the world are cordially invited to attend this important meeting," he declared. "Many problems concerning mutual cooperation and objectives . . . will be on the agenda. Those who attend our Congress will have a rare opportunity to work under one roof with young men from all parts of the world, exchanging ideas, planning programs and making international cooperation a reality."

Government engineers say the Rio Grande is becoming steadily smaller.

And That's Final

Senate Okays Heinkel to MU Curators' Board

JEFFERSON CITY—One of the Missouri Senate's final acts before adjournment last night was to confirm appointment of Fred V. Heinkel of Columbia as a member of the University of Missouri Board of Curators.

The appointment of Heinkel, president of the Missouri Farmers Association, had run into trouble on the first try, apparently because some senators resented the MFA role in support of a controversial bill to bar "filled milk" in Missouri.

But the dispute was straightened out and Heinkel was confirmed at a second executive session late yesterday.

Also confirmed were: Mrs. Byron T. Shutz of Kansas City and James A. Finch of Cape Girardeau to the board of curators. Arthur S. McDaniel of Senath as state civil defense director. Joseph A. Rouvrol of University City as state finance commissioner.

Dr. Alvin W. Rose of New Haven to the Lincoln University Board of Curators.

Son of Former Sedalian Receives Degree In Art

Joseph LaFayette Cartwright IV, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Cartwright, 5349 Rockhill Rd., Kansas City, graduated from the Kansas City Art Institute with a degree of bachelor of fine arts.

Cartwright was also awarded the Margaret Allen Barnett Memorial Award which was designated to the senior with the highest scholastic record for four years in his class. The award was found by the S. D. Club of the Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral, and the Art Institute Alumni Association.

The memorial award is in memory of Mrs. Margaret Allen Barnett, dean of students, who died the first part of this year.

The commencement was held at the Nelson Gallery of Art, Friday night, May 29.

Cartwright is the grandson of Mrs. Lizzie Cartwright and the late Joe L. Cartwright, pioneer Pettis Countians. His mother is the former Miss Gertrude Fuels of Sedalia.

Dr. Cartwright came to Sedalia Memorial Day for a short visit with his mother and brother, Clyde.

One day recently a young girl called her friend, Mary, on the telephone and asked if she could come over to her house.

"Just a minute," said Mary, who lives about 22 blocks from Donna Ruth. "I'll have to ask mother."

Donna Ruth sat there holding the 'phone, waiting and waiting and the next thing she knew Mary came in the front door.

"Who are you talking to?" asked Mary, seeing Donna Ruth at the telephone.

"Well," said Donna Ruth, "I was talking to you."

"Oh, I forgot all about the telephone," exclaimed Mary and she rushed out of the house again got on her bike and pedaled home as fast as she could pedal, ran in her home, put the telephone in place, and pedaled back to Donna Ruth's to spend the afternoon.—H. L.

Yorty Claims Defense Dept. 'Cutting Back'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Yorty (D-Calif.) says the Defense Department is "cutting back" towards a 143-wing Air Force goal, but first comment from the Pentagon was that military economy targets were unchanged.

Yorty, who has fought against an administration proposal to trim the military budget by five billion dollars, most of it cut from the Air Force, told reporters late yesterday the Defense Department was backing down. The legislator had conferred with Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot. But Assistant Secretary of Defense W. J. McNeil said he knew of "no change in military spending targets" for the next fiscal year. He said he expected the spending total to remain at about the estimated level, although actual spending rates might vary enough for the Air Force to spend more than its $16,100,000,000 allotment.

Yorty said Talbot protested the proposed limitation "and it's off." He said a revised Air Force program would be announced tomorrow.

Saying the proposed cut was "too drastic," Yorty predicted, "probably they will increase the Air Force by about as many planes as originally planned in the Truman budget for next year by making sacrifices in other departments."

Former President Truman's budget set a mid-1955 goal of 143 combat wings of 30 to 75 planes each. The later fund cuts envisaged 120 wings.

Boyle Looks At Coronation

By HAL BOYLE

LONDON (AP)—A peer of England sipping champagne in a club room window... a slum kid on a curb across the way happily munching an apple.

That was the contrasting scene in Piccadilly today, famous avenue in which Queen Elizabeth spent her childhood in a house bombed out during the war, a house near one in which two great figures of the empire had dwelt—the Duke of Wellington, hero of Waterloo, and Prime Minister Disraeli.

For the crowds gathered here to watch the coronation cavalcade it was a kind of "welcome home" party for the Queen and everybody was having a royal time.

One side of Piccadilly adjoins Green Park, which has a number of mounds reported to mark the burial pits where the dead were dumped in the great plague of the 17th century. The other side is lined by shops, hotels and exclusive clubs.

Masses gathered by the thousands on the park side. Across from them the classes assembled by the hundreds in the clubrooms.

The menu on one side of Piccadilly was homemade cheese sandwiches, oranges, flasks of tea and bottled lemonade. On the other side it began with salmon and lobster, went on through rounds of beef, chicken and turkey to fresh strawberries and cream followed by brandy, champagne or whisky.

Those on one side looked over the heads of those in front of them through 35 cent cardboard periscopes.

In the clubrooms on the other side they gathered around television sets where they could view what was going on in the abbey.

It was carnival on both sides of Piccadilly. The peers in the club had more to make them comfortable but crowds on the pavement seemed to be having more fun.

The little boy on the curb finally sat down. His head sunk, his eyes closed, his right thumb in his mouth, his half-eaten apple by his side.

He had fallen asleep waiting to welcome his queen.

Autopsy Fails To Find Cause Of Mystery Death

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—An autopsy conducted last night on a body found floating in the Mississippi River here failed to show the cause of death and left a veil of mystery over the case.

The body of John Sacha 59, an officer of the Moose Lodge at Litchfield, Ill., was found near the Alton dam yesterday by a tow-boat crewman.

A length of rope was looped about the neck and the ends were knotted about the wrists and ankles with the legs drawn back in such a way that any movement of the limbs would cause strangulation.

Dr. Henry H. Halley, Alton pathologist who conducted the autopsy, said no evidence of drowning or strangulation was found. There were no marks of violence or other signs as to the cause of death.

Madison County Coroner Ben F. Staten said he agreed with Alton and Litchfield police that Sacha could not have tied himself up in such a way.

He said the body apparently had been in the water two days.

Sacha was last seen early Friday morning returning to his home from the lodge offices, Litchfield police said.

Sacha had been manager of the lodge 17 years and secretary for 21 years.

Adding to the mystery was the discovery of his wallet containing identification papers and one gold dollar on a roadway near "lover's leap" bluff, a half mile from where the body was found. The wallet was found Saturday.

Coronation Day Oddities

LONDON (AP) — Coronation Day started Mayfair bluebirds today by announcing she's really the third Lady Orammore and Browne and so will be at Westminster Abbey complete with coronet.

Miss Gray, 35, was cited in the 1950 divorce suit brought by the second Lady Orammore and Browne. By her secret marriage to the Eton-educated lord she becomes mistress of an ancient castle and a 6,000-acre estate in Ireland. She shares, too, in his family motto — "boldly and faithfully."

Eight Tudor-garbed women who guarded the priceless crown jewels in Westminster Abbey throughout the night were oddly armed. They carried—as always—their ancient pikes. For added safety they wore revolvers strapped round the waist of their gold and crimson tunics.

Mrs. Maggie Port, 77-year-old Montreal charwoman, is here with a double mission. She aims to see the Queen today. Then she starts searching Britain for her daughter whom she has not seen in 20 years.

Sir Francis Drake, famed Elizabethan adventurer, has a coronation look. A slap and run artist painted his Plymouth statue red, white and blue.

Barbara Bond, 23, brought a bottle of champagne 3,000 miles from her Baltimore home to toast the coronation. She waved it proudly as she left the liner Queen Mary at Southampton.

It slipped from her hand and shattered on the quay.

A last-minute rush for the few seats still available sent prices soaring. Some back row stand places went for 75 pounds ($210).

Seen on the subway, a full general in ceremonial dress, straphanging.

Star turn of the pre-procession wait: 40 under-14 schoolgirls who marched down the royal route. They were taped together chain-gang style to make sure none would get lost.

The first casualty of the day in Westminster Abbey was a London girl reporter who stumbled on the stairs and sprained her ankle.

Coronation

came Queen on her father's death last year.

Queen Mother Elizabeth had recalled today the crowning of her husband, for she wept softly through part of the ceremony. Nearby, the ordinarily vivacious Princess Margaret, 22-year-old sister of the Queen, was pensive as she watched the crown being placed on the head of the girl she has always fondly called Lilibet.

The ritual was a historic outpouring of the richness of tradition which has made England great in the past and sustained her in her modern trials. Elizabeth was a picture of queenliness. Just once, she shook her head, as if to test the fit of the crown. It rested snugly, secure, as if made for her.

Only momentarily, fleetingly, a shy smile flitted across the serious young face. But the solemnity of the occasion was awe-inspiring. Watching her every move were the representatives of 74 nations, the members of 30 other royal families.

The actual act of crowning, presided over by the archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, came at the end of an hour-long ceremony in the abbey. First Elizabeth was recognized as the "undoubted Queen" and took her oath on the Bible. She was anointed in the ceremony which dedicates a ruler to the church.

Her official title is, "Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of her other realms and territories Queen, head of the commonwealth, defender of the faith."

The route from Buckingham to the abbey was little more than a mile. The smiling sovereign, lovely in the crimson velvet robe of state that covered her elaborately embroidered gown, nodded and raised her hand continually to the wildly enthusiastic spectators.

When the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh left Buckingham Palace a tremendous roar went up from the masses thousands near-by. The queen in her crimson robe of state, continually waved and smiled as her four-ton coach, resplendent in gold and drawn by eight beautiful grey horses, approached the abbey. The duke joined in acknowledging the cheers.

Preceding the Queen to the abbey were Queen Mother Elizabeth, 22-year-old Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family. Also in the crowd of 7,500 were the prime ministers of the other Commonwealth nations, and representatives of foreign governments. Gen. George C. Marshall headed the U. S. delegation and Jacob Malik represented the Soviet Union.

For her coronation, the young monarch wore beneath her various royal robes a white satin gown, embroidered in pearls, crystals and diamonds with the symbols of the Commonwealth nations. Designed by Norman Hartnell, the gown had a molded bodice cut square over the shoulders but curving

Britain Looks to New Queen To Lead to Happier Times

By HAL BOYLE

LONDON (AP) — Britain crowned the fairest queen in all her troubled history Tuesday and looked to her to lead one-fourth of the world to happier times.

The coronation of Elizabeth II was the mightiest pageant of our generation, and it was many other things:

It was the Middle Ages marching confidently through the 20th Century, an old way of life holding its own in a new way of life, the weaving of ancient threads into a fresh pattern.

It was a cry to God for guidance.

A Cinderella tale, the moment of a lifetime for a 27-year-old mother dedicating all her years to reign but not to rule in the service of 610 million people.

It was a young queen humbly accepting her duty, and most of her subjects taking the day off to celebrate proudly in a land and time where few have had much to celebrate of late.

It was a fanfare of trumpets and waving banners in the wind, a sea of flags, a crash of many martial bands, the burst of guns signaling to a doubtful world that its most farflung empire is here to stay and intends to add more centuries to its story.

The tread of troops that have fought in distant climes and sailors who have looked up at lonely stars from faroff seas and thought ing to a slightly heart-shaped center over the bosom. The sleeves were halfway to the elbow and the skirt was full and flaring.

The bodice was encrusted with a delicate lattice-work of seed pearls and crystal. An embroidered band of golden crystals, graduated diamonds and pearls bordered the bodice top, sleeves and extreme end of the skirt. The only design to appear above the waistline was a diminutive version of the pale pink Tudor rose on each sleeve.

Worked in bands of embroidery around the slightly trained skirt were emblems of the Commonwealth.

Queen's accessories included long gloves and a diamond necklace.

Queen Mother Elizabeth's gown also was of white satin. It was embroidered all over with a design of delicate, trailing ostrich feathers, decorated with gold silver and tiny diamond-like jewels. Princess Margaret wore a white satin gown with a fitted bodice, square neckline and full skirt. It was richly embroidered in English medallion design.

Television cameras were called into use for the first time for the abbey ceremony. Television was used in 1937 at the coronation of King George VI, but only for the procession.

The pageantry was relayed to one of the biggest radio and television audiences in history. The British Broadcasting Corp. broadcast accounts by radio to 59 countries, including some behind the Iron Curtain.

In addition, BBC said its television was available to over 30 million Britons—more than half the nation's total population. In France, Germany and The Netherlands, thousands more witnessed the pomp and circumstance over an international TV hookup.

A Canberra jet and other aircraft waited at London's airport and in Labrador to fly the films to TV audiences in the United States and Canada.

Besides Gen. Marshall, the official U. S. delegation included Gov. Earl Warren of California, Gen. Omar Bradley and Mrs. Fleur Cowles, New York author.

The guests also included 30 representatives of royal families from countries other than Britain. No sovereign kings or queens were present, however, since it is against tradition for an independent monarch to attend the crowning of another.

Ceremonial Dress Bothered Royalty

LONDON (AP) — Some berobed peers, unaccustomed to ceremonial dress in these days of austerity, had difficulty handling their regalia as they arrived at Westminster Abbey today.

One nobleman stumbled and almost fell getting out of his car. Another dropped his coronet and a nearby soldier had to retrieve it for him.

Duke and Duchess Robbed of Jewelry

LONDON (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland arose early today to attend the coronation and discovered jewelry they valued at 30,000 pounds ($84,000) had been stolen from their home.

The back door was open but there was no sign of forced entry. It was the duchess' second jewel theft in less than three years. In November, 1950, thieves lifted 50,000 pounds ($140,000) worth of gems from her Surrey estate.

In both instances the jewels were generations-old family heirlooms.

Mrs. Tucker will be here SOON!

Prince Charlie Is a Good Boy On Mother's Day

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, London (AP) — At that golden moment for which he, too, is destined, the little boy was indeed a prince royal today.

The Duke of Cornwall, Prince Charles of Britain, heir to the throne, did his mother proud. He was a good boy.

It was only sometime later—after the Crown of St. Edward had been placed on the head of Queen Elizabeth II and even after his father, the duke of Edinburgh, had advanced to the altar for communion—it was only then that the blond darling of England acted like a four-year-old.

Prince Charles sucked his thumb. His granny, Queen Mother Elizabeth, who had the task of minding the youngster, whispered quick words to him and his royal dignity returned. Charles was again a dutiful son and heir.

They saved a seat for the boy. He had been promised he could sit with all those grownups if he would behave. A great craning and creaking of 7,500 necks at the time of the queen's announcement signaled the arrival of her son.

Dressed in a white shirt and knickers, his hair meticulously parted, Prince Charles sat in the royal gallery with the queen mother.

Oriental Splendor Adds to Color Of Coronation

LONDON (AP) — Brilliantly costumed rulers of British protectorates added Oriental splendor to today's coronation procession.

They rode in four carriages. In the first carriage was the Sultan of Kelantan, wearing green robes embroidered with gold thread. He carried a kris, or curved dagger, made from an elephant tusk. The Sultan was accompanied by Queen Salote Tupou of the Tonga Islands in the Pacific, an immense and handsome brown woman, 6 feet 3 inches tall. Her Tongan ceremonial dress included a loose blouse, ankle-length skirt and an apron of brown pandanus leaves.

Then came the Sultan of Perak, in brilliant robes of blue and wearing a diamond-studded headdress. He also carried a kris. With him was the Sultan of Zanzibar.

The Sultans of Brunei and Johore rode in the third coach and the Sultans of Labai and Selangor in the fourth. The latter's garb, worth a king's ransom, included a gold belt studded with diamonds, a sarong and loose trousers of gold brocade, a gold neck chain set with diamonds and a kris crusted with rubies and sapphires.

It was a day of many things—this coronation. It began with a low-voiced prayer and went on to a loud and long parade. . . . it was a holiday, a hope, a great outpouring of sentiment from the people, of all the sons of man, who are most reluctant to show sentiment. . . . They called it "the great day." The cockneys said, "Well, boggle my eyeballs," and even the retired stuffy colonels gave as their verdict, "Good show," a term they usually reserve for the winning of a war.

And the coronation was one thing more. It bore a "made in Britain" label, and was certainly the finest postwar product yet turned out here, for consumption both at home and abroad, to show that the British Commonwealth is still doing "business as usual," and will for a long time to come. It was something to see.

Many Suffer Cold, Exposure In London

LONDON (AP) — Before the royal procession today, scores of casualties among the crowd along the route were taken to first aid stations, most of them suffering from cold and exposure as the result of long waiting.

At one point 64 persons were treated up to 8 a. m.; at another 37. One man caught in the surging crowd suffered a broken leg.

Queen Begins Day With Prayer And Cup of Tea

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II began her Coronation Day with a cup of tea and a prayer.

The young monarch awoke early, about 7:30 a. m. Her maid delivered the usual tray of tea and placed it on the bedside table.

There was something different this morning, however, for on the tray was a posy of fresh flowers with a little note reading: "With every possible good wish today and always. From Mac and Smith."

The signers were her personal maid, Mary MacDonald, and her undermaid, Helen Smith.

On arising, the Queen knelt alone in her bedchamber and prayed. She breakfasted in her private apartments overlooking Buckingham Palace gardens.

The Duke of Edinburgh was up early too. He and the Queen, proud parents, visited the nursery. Nurses Helen Lightbody and Mabel Anderson were trying frantically to quiet their two excited royal charges—Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

The 4-year-old prince sensed it was a big day ahead for him. He was to see part of the coronation ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

The Queen's guests breakfasted in their suites. They included the Duke of Edinburgh's mother, Princess Andrew of Greece, the crown prince and princess of Norway, and Prince and Princess Axel of Denmark.

The whole palace scene in the early part of the morning was one of quiet activity—except in the nursery.

Churchill to Museum For Part of His Dress

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill went to a museum for part of his coronation costume.

He wore a huge star of the Order of the Garter—3½ inches across—which belonged to his ancestor, the Duke of Marlborough. It was loaned him by a museum for the occasion.

Because arteries always are empty after death, the older anatomists believed they contained air.

Austria Forced Work Program Now Authorized

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Czechoslovak Communist Parliament has decreed that all men under 60 and women under 50 can be forced to work unlimited hours for the state or community outside of their regular working time. This became known Monday as millions of Czechoslovak citizens found their savings cut almost to nothing and their buying power sharply reduced by a drastic new currency reform.

The trade union newspaper Prace disclosed that, under a recent parliamentary action, every Czech worker can be called upon to work extra hours whenever "extraordinary difficulties" develop.

This means that a man who works a 48-hour week can be forced to work unlimited additional hours in his own factory, or he can be sent to work in another plant, or in the fields or mines—wherever the Communist regime found their savings cut almost to nothing.

Yesterday's Games— Braves Get Biggest Test In Ten Days

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Just how good are Milwaukee's amazing Braves?
The next 10 days may supply a definite answer. Charlie Grimm's second-placers are at Ebbets Field tonight starting a three-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Then comes a four-game series in Philadelphia followed by another four-game set in New York.

By that time, the rest of the league should know whether the Braves are to be taken seriously. Despite their lofty perch, there are still some rival managers who insist the Braves are playing over their heads and will drop back among the second-divisioners when the weather gets hot and the going gets rougher.

Grimm, the jovial skipper of the Braves, dissents, naturally.
"We're up there to stay," he says. "Our pitching has been great, our infield has been tight and our hitters have begun to find the range. From what I've seen thus far, we're as good as any team in the league."

Certainly the Braves have been the surprise of the league. With six weeks of the season gone they are only a half game behind the league-leading Dodgers. All teams enjoyed an off day yesterday. A victory tonight would put the Braves on top.

This is the same club experts picked to finish sixth and seventh. A good part of the explanation lies in the slugging of sophomore third baseman Eddie Mathews (.331 batting average, 14 homers and 37 runs batted in), the resurgence of shortstop Johnny Logan, the fine showing of rookie pitchers Don Liddle and Bob Buhl and outfielder Bill Bruton, and the return from service of batterymen Johnny Antonelli and Del Crandall.

Not to be overlooked is the tremendous reception the transplanted Braves are getting in their new home.

Just how important is encouragement and fan enthusiasm to a professional athlete?
"It gives you a lift," says Sid Gordon, the socking outfielder of the Braves. It makes you want to play that much harder, run that much faster and hit and field that much better."

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who, like all baseball people are delighted with the Braves' showing, thinks the Milwaukee fans deserve a big assist for their team's fine play.

Maybe it sounds like hokey," he says. "But I'm convinced that a team reacts to that kind of support. It puts out a little extra."

With the exception of the Braves, the National League races are running normally. Brooklyn, Philadelphia and St. Louis are up there with the slow-starting Giants right behind them. The New York Yankees, as expected, are setting the pace in the American with Cleveland and Chicago striving mightily to overtake them.

The Boston Red Sox surprise of the American League, face their annual test. Can they prove successful on the road? They open a 14-game Western tour in Cleveland tonight. A double loss in Washington Sunday dropped them out of the first division.

If the Yankees are going to be overhauled, it will have to be on the road. The world champions have won 17 of their 21 home engagements. They open a 14-game tour of the West with a game in Chicago tonight. The White Sox and Indians, who will be at home during the next two weeks, have a 4½-game deficit to make up.

In the National, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, among the contenders, will be at home during the next fortnight. The St. Louis Cardinals and Braves will be on the road, not to return home until June 16. It should be an interesting two weeks all around.

Baptists Meet Shops Team Thursday Night At Center Park Field

East Sedalia Baptists' softball team and a squad of employees from the Missouri Pacific Shops will meet in a game Thursday night under the lights at Center Park. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Morton will pitch and Young will catch for the Baptists, but the Shops' team has not yet announced its battery.

Tonight the Baptists will practice at Washington Park at 6 o'clock. They will be after their second win, having defeated the Gleasons Class of their church in an earlier tilt.

Rocky Calls Off Tour
Of Korea, Philippines

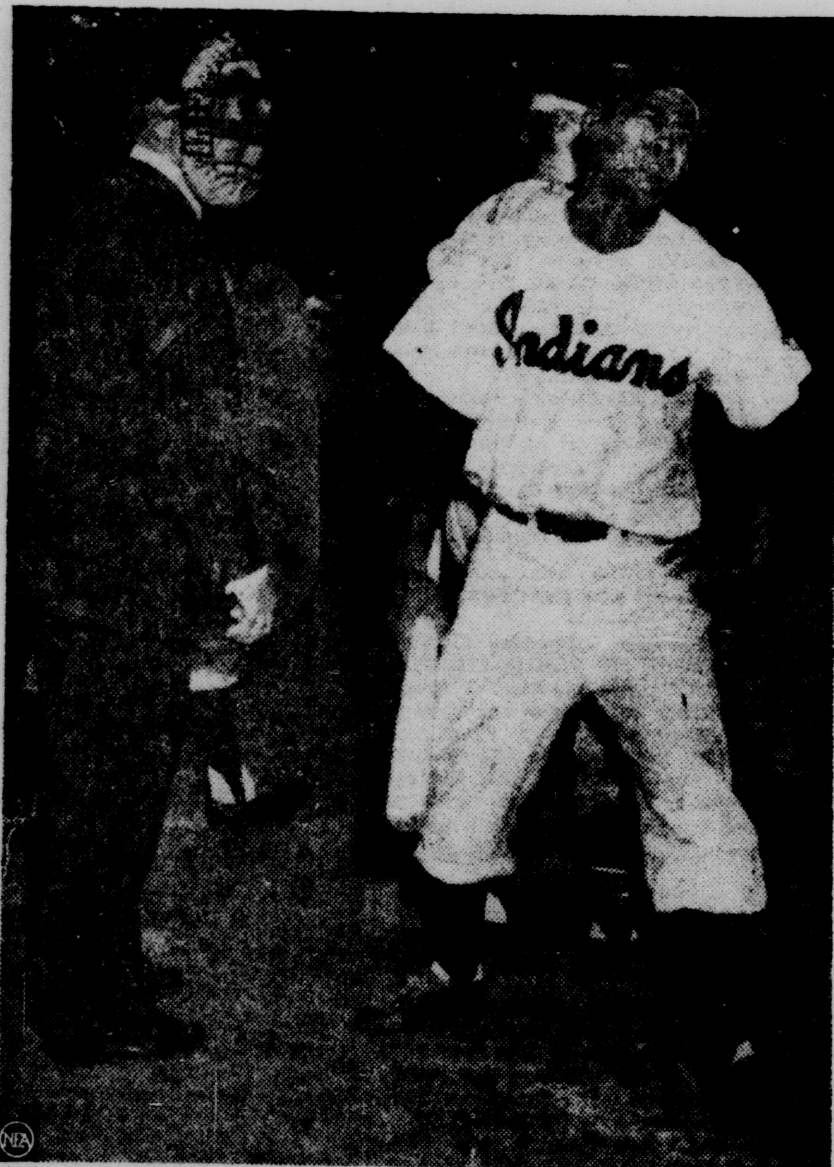

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Heavyweight king Rocky Marciano came home for the first time since he knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago May 15—says his planned exhibition tour of the Philippines and Korea is off.

"We called off the tour," he said last night, "because it would take too much time. It would be too close to the next fight. I'd like to go but I'm afraid it would be too much for me, everything taken in to consideration."

Asked whether he'd rather fight Roland La Starza or ex-champion Ezzard Charles, Rocky said:
"Well, I'm going to fight both of them eventually, but I think I'd rather fight La Starza first. A decision is expected soon on Marciano's next fight."

Visiting Firemen
HERMOSILLO, SANORA, Mexico (AP)—The Arizona Firemen's Association held its annual meeting here with more than 150 fire chiefs and firemen in attendance.

It was the first time the Arizona firemen had ever met outside the United States. Special courtesy permits were issued to delegates and their wives by the Mexican government.

OH, NO!—In pain was Larry Doby after Charley Berry called him out on strikes at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. The Indians' center fielder just couldn't believe he again had been caught looking, turned from the plate, bat in hand, as though hit by a pitched ball. Sherman Lollar is White Sox catcher. (NEA)

Sports Roundup—

Article Calls Ben Hogan The Greatest Golfer Of All Time

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Ben Hogan the greatest golfer the world has ever seen? The below-the-surface debate on the topic is brought into the parlor today by no less august a medium than the U. S. Golf Association Journal, whose June issue features an article by Herbert Warren Wind entitled "How Great Is Ben Hogan?"

It has not been popular in some circles to suggest that the amazing Texan has proved himself a finer, more consistent shotmaker than was Bobby Jones, the wonderful Georgian. Wind, author of "The Story of American Golf," sticks his neck out, in part, as follows: "Not for a very long time—perhaps not since Jones won them all in 1930—has a performance by a golfer excited the admiration of the game's insiders as did Hogan's four rounds over the Augusta National last April when he lowered the Masters record by five strokes simply by not playing one loose shot in 74."

"It is certainly understandable if, since Augusta, a number of reliable critics have decided that Ben is, without any qualifications whatever, the greatest golfer who ever lived. Perhaps it would be fairest to put it this way: in the long history of golf, there probably never has been a better golfer than Ben Hogan."

"This disposition to elevate Hogan to a status comparable to that of Vardon and Jones is widespread but not by any means unanimous. The most interesting dissent comes from that band of traditionalists who claim they cannot go along with such a rating until Ben wins a British Open and demonstrates he is equally a champion at 'that other kind of golf'—controlling the ball when the wind is ripping hard across a British links, with its snigger fairway lies, its rougher rough and its hard unwatereed greens.

"Whether or not you agree with this reasoning, the implicit suggestion that Ben take a crack at the British Open is one that, indeed, stirs the golfer's imagination. How would Ben, who has never played a competitive round in Britain, make out in their Open?"

"The most provocative point here (the Hogan doubters) raise is based on the assumption that in very windy conditions Ben might be blown off the fairways and, on some courses be faced with the one shot he has apparently not mastered: the recovery from high-tough grass."

"Hogwash, the Hogan-can-do-it school answers. All Ben would need would be a few weeks of practice to make all the necessary adjustments—he has always managed to modify his repertoire of shots to meet the different requirements of the courses selected for our major tournaments."

"Let us hope that one of these summers while he is at the top of his game Ben will arrange his schedule to include the British Open. If he did, it would be a wonderful thing for international golf. And, on the other hand, it would be a downright shame if a golfer of Ben's rare genius were to pass from the scene without taking at least one crack at the oldest of the great championships."

Last night Hogan disclosed he has cabled in his entry for the British because "so many people have been urging me to do so." He added, however, that "there are some commitments I must get out of and I have to get a hotel reservation."

Garcia Wants More Work, Less Rainfall

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike Garcia was peeved. The St. Louis Browns had just knocked him out of the box—and in the second inning.
"I need more pitching," moaned the Cleveland pitcher, winner of 22 games last season. "All that rain and this blasted schedule have been murder."

That was a little over a week ago.
Mike and his two pals on Cleveland's terrific Big Three pitching staff—Bob Lemon and Early Wynn—have been complaining like that all season.

Quite logically, Manager Al Lopez pointed out today that they'll get enough work from now on. The blanks on the schedule are just about gone.

Moreover, Lopez added confidently: "I think all three of them will win 20 again this season."

Actually, the figures show that these three still have an excellent chance of approaching the almost incredible total they set last year of 67 victories.

As of today, they have won 14 and lost 10. Last year at this time they had won 15 and lost 11.

"They're all three slow starters," said one member of the Indians' front office. "You watch. Around July 1, they'll be hot as a pistol."

"We were a little worried about Wynn at first. He'd been arguing salary and reported two weeks late, and we didn't think he'd be ready in time. But he's won five and lost two so far, whereas he had a 5-4 record a year ago."

"What they want is to work every fourth day, especially Garcia and Wynn," said one of the Indians' front office. "You watch. Garcia is a little behind. He had a 6-3 tally last year, 4-3 this year. Lemon looks about the same: 4-4 last year, 5-5 this year."

Boonville Heads B-J League With Sedalia Second

MOBERLY (AP)—The Boonville Lions, pre-season favorites, sit at the head of the class after one week of play in the Central Missouri Baseball League.

Manager Audie Gilliam's Lions won their first two starts and took a half game lead over Sedalia and Mexico in the race for the first half pennant.

Boonville thrashed Mexico, 16-6, and Brookfield 25-6, in slugs, while every other member of the circuit was charged with at least one loss.

Sedalia and Mexico are tied for second in third places with 2-1 records. Moberly, the league's defending champion, and Brookfield dropped their first two starts.

Four games are scheduled through next Sunday night. Boonville will try for its third in a row against Moberly here Thursday night. Mexico will go to Brookfield Friday night. Sedalia will be at Boonville and Moberly at Brookfield Sunday night.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Boonville	2	0	1.000
Sedalia	2	1	.667
Mexico	2	1	.667
Moberly	0	2	.000
Brookfield	0	2	.000

Red Schoendienst

Schoendienst Tops National League With .371

NEW YORK (AP)—Switch-hitting Al (Red) Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, who swings equally well from either side of the plate, has spurred to the top of the National League batting race with a .371 average.

In the American League, George Kell of the Boston Red Sox has regained the lead from Washington's Mickey Vernon and is hitting .367. Figures include Sunday's games.

Schoendienst, second last week, displaced Philadelphia's Johnny Wyrostek who skidded to third place behind Jim Greengrass of the Cincinnati Redlegs. The slender Red Bird second baseman went 13-for-32 last week and gained eight points.

Greengrass, like Schoendienst, also collected 12 hits in 32 trips and moved into the runner-up spot with a .362 mark. Wyrostek had four hits in 14 at bats and his average dipped 12 points to .358, ten points ahead of teammate Richie Ashburn at .348. Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves climbed from eighth to fifth with a .351 average.

Despite an ailing back, Kell again forged to the front of the American League batting derby. The stocky veteran, seeing limited service, had five hits in ten trips to raise his average 11 points.

Vernon, in relinquishing the lead, fell to second at .339. Cleveland's Al Rosen vaulted from fifth to third with a .338 mark. Philadelphia's Pete Suder dropped from third to fourth with .331 and Mickey Hentle of the New York Yankees fell from fourth to fifth at .327.

Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers continues as the National League pace-setter in both home runs with 17 and runs batted in with 54. Rosen is the American League home run leader with 10, while Clyde Vollmer of the Washington Senators is tops in rbi's with 33.

Inter-City Golf Tourney at J.C. This Thursday

The Inter-City Golf tournament between Country Club teams of Jefferson City, Fulton, Columbia and Sedalia, will get underway on Thursday, June 4, at Jefferson City. Tournament games will be played each Thursday, June 11 at Fulton, June 18 at Columbia and in Sedalia on June 25th.

Sam Higleyman, elected captain of the Sedalia squad, announced the following players to participate in the Jefferson City tilt: Allen Tawse, Judd Grayston, Gentry Patterson, Charles Patterson, Harold Jung, Dr. D. H. Glenn, Dick Gorrell, J. J. McGrath, S. DeLozier, Forrest Benner, Cecil Owen and Phil Costello.

Alternate players are John R. Van Dyne and Captain Higleyman.

The tournament is an annual affair between the four Country Club teams.

Abbott Tops All For US Open Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Pat Abbott, a handsome 40-year-old Southerner who gave up ambitions to be an actor and turned professional golfer, grabbed the No. 1 qualifying spot for the United States Open Championship from a field of more than 1,600 of the nation's links experts.

Abbott was all by himself out in front of the 268 golfers who qualified yesterday in the first step of the complicated new system of getting into the Open tournament. Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C., last year's open champion, and 31 other players were exempted from the tests, which saw almost all of the leading professionals get through. A number of the top amateurs failed to qualify.

Notable among the failures was the virtually complete collapse of the famous Turnesa golfing family. Mike, Willie, Joe and Joe Jr. all were eliminated in the New York City area competition. Only Jim Turnesa, who as the defending PGA champion automatically escaped the first cutdown is still in the running.

Abbott, professional at the Memphis Country Club for five years, toured the neighboring 6,167-yard Memphis Colonial Country Club layout in 5 under par, 69-66-135. Next among the qualifiers who qualified on 32 widely scattered courses were Dave Douglas, veteran tournament pro from Newark, Del., who had 69-67-136 despite a morning thunderstorm at Philadelphia, and Ray Gafford, the pro at the Northwood Country Club in Dallas, where the 1952 Open was played. Gafford also shot a 69-67-136.

Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., former British and U. S. amateur champion, failed by a stroke at Philadelphia. Jim McHale, a Walker Cup star from Philadelphia, missed by the same margin at Mamaroneck, N. Y., and big Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., could get no better than an alternate's spot at Huntington.

Under the new qualifying setup being used this year for the first time, the players who passed yesterday will now enter a 36-hole preliminary competition at Oakmont, Pa. June 9-10. They will be joined in these preliminary rounds by all of the players who were exempt from qualifying, except Boros. After this 36 holes, the low 149 players and ties will enter the regular 72-hole Open tournament. Prize money will total $20,000, with the top professional collecting $5,000.

Hogan to Play In British Open

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan is going to play in his first British Open Golf Tournament next month. "If he can get a hotel reservation, if he can get an entry cabled in and I'd like to play," the 40-year-old Texan said last night before leaving for Pittsburgh to shoot for his fourth U. S. Open title. "But there are some commitments I must get out of and I have to get a hotel reservation."

"The hotel problem has me worried. There is one hotel in the vicinity of the course and I understand it is filled up. If I can't get in, I can't play."

The British tournament will be held at Carnoustie, Scotland, just across the bay from St. Andrews, July 6-10.

Although he has won three U. S. Opens, two PGA crowns and two Masters championships and is generally rated the greatest golfer of the era, Ben has never played in a British event. His only trip to England was as nonplaying captain of the U. S. Ryder Cup team in 1949, right after his near-fatal auto accident.

"I decided I'd play in the British Open because so many people have been urging me to do so," Hogan said. "Also, I've always wanted to try out their different playing conditions over there."

India Orders Several Foreign Auto Firms To Close Their Plants

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government has ordered seven foreign automobile companies to close their assembly plants here within three years but has told five other companies manufacturing cars locally they can continue.

Commerce and Industry Minister T. T. Krishnamachari told a news conference yesterday the American Ford and Chevrolet and British Morris companies were among those affected by the closure order. They were told they must concentrate on maintenance and servicing instead of assembling cars.

Those allowed to continue assembling cars locally they can continue.

Rotarians Told Of Hiway 50 Group's Work

Eugene Fryhoff, president of the Missouri Highway 50 Association, Inc., told Rotarians Monday noon about objectives of the association and of the ultimate goal of organizing a National Highway 50 Association to boost the route as the most scenic across the nation.

Fryhoff, of Warrensburg, was introduced to the Rotary Club by Ernest Freyman, program chairman, who is secretary of the Missouri group.

In his talk the president of the newly formed group said that in less than six months the organization has issued 100,000 maps of the Highway 50 route through the state, has erected two large sign boards at strategic locations in St. Louis area, has met several times with the State Highway Commission concerning improvement of the route and has outlined six main objectives.

The objectives are:

First to promote and encourage highway traffic and tourists trade on U. S. Highway 50 including the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City; 2, to encourage the continual improvement of the highway; 3, to work with the Missouri Highway Commission and cities in the interest of providing better routing of U. S. Highway 50; 4, to encourage the establishment of more roadway parks along the route; 5, to encourage planting of shrubs, trees and flowers to beautify the route and 6, to provide same and efficient highway facilities to those citizens and communities served by Highway 50.

Mr. Fryhoff stated that the membership of the association is now 360, of which 125 are from Sedalia.

George H. Routsong, president elect, presided over the meeting, with invocation by Oscar DeWolf.

F. Emory Bowman led the singing. Visitors introduced by Dr. W. E. Pearl were: Rotarians Dr. Dallas Joyes, El Dorado, Kan., and Eugene Fryhoff, Warrensburg, and the Rev. William C. Bessmer, guest of Dr. L. S. Geiger.

Short Hits Commies In Central Address

FAYETTE, Mo. — The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee yesterday told graduates at Central College that the U. S. must maintain military might at any cost because "no one can negotiate with the 14 mad dogs in the Kremlin."

Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.), whose home is at Galena, said besides that "we must maintain and develop economic strength and a strong domestic economy."

There were 93 seniors for the 98th commencement exercises. Rep. Short was one of three who received honorary degrees.

Wilson Is Speaker For Jewell Graduates

LIBERTY, Mo. — Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, was commencement speaker at William Jewell College yesterday. Eighty-six seniors received Bachelor of Arts Degrees.

"We must make sure that our schools build ideals as they build knowledge," Wilson said in warning that there is nothing more dangerous in the world today than high intelligence coupled with low ideals.

Park College Degrees To 49 On Monday

PARKVILLE, Mo. — Degrees were conferred on 49 seniors at Park College commencement exercises yesterday.

David T. Beals, president of the Inter-State National Bank in Kansas City, was commencement speaker and received an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree. Two other honorary degrees were conferred.

1 Man In Class of 148

CHICAGO — John Killian was the only man among 148 graduates awarded bachelor and masters degrees at Rosary College in suburban River Forest Monday. Killian, of Aurora, Ill., received a Master of Arts in library science degree.

Jersey Parish Show June 5 At Lee's Summit

The annual Parish Show for Jersey Parish No. 7 will be held at Lee's Summit on June 5, announced Earl Wood of Beaman. The show will be held at the City Park in the southern edge of Lee's Summit at the junction of Highway 50 and 71 Bypass.

"Bring a basket lunch and the entire family," says Wood. "We also plan to show the excellent Jersey film, 'More Profit Per Acre,' during the noon hour."

There will be a dairy cattle judging contest for both the junior and senior divisions. A show halter will be presented by the Missouri Jersey Cattle Club in the junior showman's contest.

"If you have shown your cattle at a Jersey Parish Show previously, you need not be reminded of the value derived from it. If not, we invite you to attend the show and get acquainted with other Jersey breeders," Wood points out.

The cattle will be housed in a barn on the fair grounds, so rain shouldn't interfere.

Good Jerseys are expected as there are ten counties in the parish. Bill Keegan, field man for the American Jersey Cattle Club, will be present to help with the show. Boyd Michels, manager of the Hallmark Jersey Farm of Kansas City, will be the judge.

All 4-H boys and girls are welcome in this breeders' show.

Farm Storage Problem Again Confuses US

WASHINGTON — A farm problem generally credited with helping Harry S. Truman win the 1948 presidential election is bobbing up again to torment the Republican party and its new national administration.

It is the problem of finding enough storage space to handle the nation's mounting surplus of grains.

The issue is making itself felt in farmers' pocketbooks, where it can have an effect politically. Largely because of a prospect that there will be a shortage of suitable storage facilities, wheat and other grain prices have been tumbling in recent weeks. The closer the new wheat crop harvest approaches the more prices go down.

Right now, wheat for July delivery is being quoted on the Chicago market for about $2 a bushel, nearly 50 cents a bushel below the level the Agriculture Department is committed to support prices.

At this same time in 1948 wheat and other grain prices started skidding. A storage shortage was blamed. The Truman administration said the Republican 80th Congress had stripped the government of authority to provide storage facilities. Democrats drummed on this issue during the campaign. Election day found a strong Truman vote in the Midwestern farm belt which helped defeat of the confident GOP nominee, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

There is a close tie between storage facilities and market prices of grains. When storage is ample, prices usually hold close to price support levels. Conversely, when there is a lack of storage, prices usually fall below support levels.

The reason for this is that a grower can get the benefit of the price support only if he has acceptable storage for his grains.

New Swing Kills Boy

HOPKINTON, Ia. — Paul Ehltz, 6, stood by eagerly while a new metal swing was erected in his yard here.

ed to conform to the new schedules and routes if any changes are made. The motion carried.

Two ordinances on rezoning were passed. One changes lots 1 and 2, block 17, Cotton Brothers Second Addition, from A, residential, to E, commercial. This property is on the southeast corner of 16th and Ohio. The other changes property bounded on the south by 16th, on the north by 14th, on the west by Lamine and east by the Missouri Pacific War-saw Branch tracks from A to J, light industry.

The ordinance increasing salaries and changing gasoline allowances of certain city employees was also passed.

An ordinance providing for construction of a sewer and advertising for bids in Sewer District 94 was passed.

Mayor Studer presented the name of Leo Gentges, 710 East Fourth, as a city fireman for confirmation. It was confirmed.

Councilman Kelley asked approval to increase Clifford Schrader an operator in the street and alley department, $10 a month to conform with the other operators of the department. It was approved.

Councilman Harry Moore, on the fire and water committee, asked the Council approval to ask for bids on a new fire truck, 3 bids preferably, all on specifications of the city. It was pointed out the City had arranged its budget funds to buy a new truck. The request was approved.

Under public buildings, Councilman Schwarz reported the screens had been placed in the service men's center at the old Post Office building, Second and Lamine.

Councilman Schwarz also read a petition requesting permission to enter a lateral in a sewer manhole from the property of Mrs. Emma Hunter, 2401 East 12th.

Councilman Sumners reported tax books, personal and real estate were being prepared by Mrs. Betty Padgett at a cost of $650. The Council approved the payment.

Councilman Case, under the sewer and sanitation department, asked approval to ask for three bids on a two-ton truck for that department. This was approved. The monthly reports of city officers were read and approved. Councilman Sumners and Councilman Schwarz burned eight interest coupons for $10 each on City Hospital No. 2 bonds, and 13 interest coupons of $10 each on the Armory bonds.

The package liquor license of Main Street Drug Store, Main and Ohio, and the 3.2 beer license of the Missouri Bowl, 105 South Missouri, were both renewed and approved.

The following ordinances were introduced: To seal coat seven miles or less of streets in Sedalia this summer; no parking from Broadway to the alley on the West side of Engineer beside the Epworth Methodist Church; purchasing lost 1, 2, and 3, Block 1, Campbell's Addition, which adjoin Vermont Park, for $1,000; to establish the grade for curb and guttering on Warren from the south line of 18th to the north line of 20th, to establish the grade on Sunset Drive from the north line of Broadway to the south line of Fifth.

Permission was granted the trustees of the Jenny Jaynes Lewis Memorial Foundation to enter the manhole sewer between Third and Fourth on Limit, with a lateral from the stadium.

Councilman Dr. Ira White asked for an ordinance establishing stop signs on the southwest corner of Sixth and Emmett and on the northeast corner of that intersection.

The Mayor also suggested the building committee should either hire an operator for the field or lease it to an operator. He suggested the committee discuss this and report at the next meeting.

Councilman Schwarz stated the tower and markers would be installed after he was informed there was a special fund for this. Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors asked the Council's permission to grant a space in the police station to the Air Patrol from the Sedalia Air Force Base for desk room. It was granted.
